II. Basis for Jurisdiction

Federal courts are courts of limited jurisdiction (limited power). Generally, only two types of cases can be heard in federal court: cases involving a federal question and cases involving diversity of citizenship of the parties. Under 28 U.S.C. § 1331, a case arising under the United States Constitution or federal laws or treaties is a federal question case. Under 28 U.S.C. § 1332, a case in which a citizen of one State sues a citizen of another State or nation and the amount at stake is more than $75,000 is a diversity of citizenship case. In a diversity of citizenship case, no defendant may be a citizen of the same State as any plaintiff.

In May 2017, I, Henry Beaupin, engaged in a protected activity by filing a formal complaint of discrimination and harassment against my supervisor, Joseph K. I walked into the office of my director, William Gibbons, and explained my grievances, detailing the reasons for filing the discrimination claim. During the meeting, Mr. Gibbons requested that Supervisor Joseph K. join the conversation. Once Joseph K. arrived, I reiterated my concerns and outlined the instances of harassment and discrimination. At the end of the meeting, Mr. Gibbons assured me that he would follow up on the matter. However, shortly afterward, I found myself under investigation, and I was subsequently terminated. This was despite having consistently received positive job performance evaluations.

IV. Relief

State briefly and precisely what damages or other relief the plaintiff asks the court to order. Do not make legal arguments. Include any basis for claiming that the wrongs alleged are continuing at the present time. Include the amounts of any actual damages claimed for the acts alleged and the basis for these amounts. Include any punitive or exemplary damages claimed, the amounts, and the reasons you claim you are entitled to actual or punitive money damages.

I am seeking compensation for lost wages totaling seven years as of the date of this filing, along with punitive damages and compensation for emotional distress. The total amount sought is $1 million.

Prior to filing the complaint, I had been in good standing with my employer. I firmly believe my termination was an act of retaliation.
